MONTHLY SHAREHOLDER REPORT

BH Macro Limited Shareholder Report

Overview

BH Macro Limited ("BHM") is a closed-ended investment company, registered and incorporated in Guernsey on 17 January 2007 (Registration Number: 46235). BHM invests all of its assets (net of short-term working capital) in the ordinary shares of Brevan Howard Master Fund Limited ("BHMF" or the "Fund"). BHM was admitted to the Official List of the UK Listing Authority and to trading on the Main Market of the London Stock Exchange on 14 March 2007.

Manager Statement

The Manager anticipates that by 2 January 2024, BHMF will have fully redeemed its investments in Brevan Howard Alpha Strategies Master Fund Limited ("BHAL"), Brevan Howard AS Macro Master Fund Limited ("BHAS") and Brevan Howard FG Macro Master Fund Limited ("BHFG"). Investments in BHAS and BHFG are anticipated to be replaced with direct allocations to the investment teams of BHAS and BHFG and the investment in BHAL is anticipated to be replaced with a number of direct allocations to certain Alpha Style PMs whose trading mandates are more closely aligned to the overarching macro mandate of BHMF. In each case this will ensure that BHMF and BHM retain access to the relevant trading expertise of these investment teams. It is anticipated that BHMF's holdings in other Brevan Howard-managed funds will fall to approximately 17% of BHMF's assets (based on current assets) from 2 January 2024 as a result.

Please refer to the Trader Style Characteristics below for a summary of the differences between Macro and Alpha Style Traders.

Data estimated as at 29 September 2023.

Performance Overview

Over the course of September, interest rates, equity and FX all contributed positively while trading across commodities, credit and digital assets were broadly flat. Within the rates complex, directional and curve trading across UK, Japan and the US generated most of the gains with additional returns from volatility, inflation and bond RV. Offsetting some of these gains were losses from European and EM interest rate markets. Across FX, DM trading generated modest gains while EM was broadly flat, detracting very slightly. In equity markets, the main gains stemmed from tactical trading of US indices.

<sup>1</sup>The Macro and Alpha Style Trader attribution and capital allocation is calculated by assigning every portfolio manager ("PM") trading on behalf of BHMF (and BHMF seeded funds) to either the Macro or Alpha style category. Alpha Style includes all PMs who have an allocation within the Brevan Howard Alpha Strategies Master Fund, or would be eligible to having such an allocation subject to their trading capacity. Such PMs typically (but not always) have more narrowly defined trading mandates and smoother return profiles. Macro style includes PMs who typically (but not always) have more broadly defined trading mandate, may take more macro-directional trading risk and have a less smooth P&L profile and may also include exposures to opportunistic, strategic trading books. The capital allocation split accounts for AUM gearing. Data as at 29 September 2023. Data for September 2023 is estimated by Brevan Howard Asset Management LLP ("BHAM"), using data from State Street Fund Services (Ireland) Limited ("SSFS").

RISK FACTORS

Acquiring shares in BHM may expose an investor to a significant risk of losing all of the amount invested. Any person who is in any doubt about investing in BHM (and therefore gaining exposure to BHMF and the investment funds in which BHMF invests (together with BHMF “the Underlying Funds”)) should consult an authorised person specialising in advising on such investments. Any person acquiring shares in BHM must be able to bear the risks involved. These include the following:

- The Underlying Funds are speculative and involve substantial risk.
- The Underlying Funds will be leveraged and will engage in speculative investment practices that may increase the risk of investment loss.
- The Underlying Funds may invest in illiquid and volatile securities.
- Past results of each Underlying Fund’s investment manager(s) are not necessarily indicative of future performance of that Underlying Fund, and that Underlying Fund’s performance may be volatile.
- An investor could lose all or a substantial amount of his or her investment.
- An investment manager may have total investment and trading authority over an Underlying Fund and each Underlying Fund is dependent upon the services of its investment manager(s).
- Investments in the Underlying Funds are subject to restrictions on withdrawal or redemption and should be considered illiquid.
- The investment managers’ incentive compensation, fees and expenses may offset an Underlying Fund’s trading and investment profits.
- No Underlying Fund is required to provide periodic pricing or valuation information to investors with respect to individual investments.
- The Underlying Funds are not subject to the same regulatory requirements as mutual funds.
- A portion of the trades executed for the Underlying Funds may take place on foreign markets.
- The Underlying Funds are subject to conflicts of interest.
- Each Underlying Fund is dependent on the services of certain key personnel, and, were certain or all of them to become unavailable, an Underlying Fund may prematurely terminate.
- Each Underlying Fund’s managers will receive performance-based compensation. Such compensation may give such managers an incentive to make riskier investments than they otherwise would.
- For Underlying Funds investing in cryptocurrencies and/or other digital assets including derivatives, via a fund or directly, those cryptocurrencies and other digital assets may experience high daily price volatility potentially resulting in significant losses, as well as the following specific risks for crypto-market participations: valuation and liquidity challenges when exiting in periods of stress; cybersecurity events or the loss of the unique private keys needed to access/transfer cryptocurrencies or other digital assets with both risking irreversible losses; the opaque underlying/spot market posing asset verification challenges, and, the evolving regulatory landscape potentially introducing uncertainty affecting prices or usage of cryptocurrencies and/or other digital assets including derivatives.
- An Underlying Fund may make investments in securities of issuers in emerging markets. Investment in emerging markets involve particular risks, such as less strict market regulation, increased likelihood of severe inflation, unstable currencies, war, expropriation of property, limitations on foreign investments, increased market volatility, less favourable or unstable tax provisions, illiquid markets and social and political upheaval.

The above summary risk factors do not purport to be a complete description of the relevant risks of an investment in shares in BHM or the Underlying Funds and therefore reference should be made to publicly available documents and information.
